TRAINING AT TRUMAN

Season Plan

The season strategy is broken down throughout the year into month to month, week to week and even day to day strategies. For the most part the team is broken into three distinct groups; sprints, middle distances and distances.

Preparation Phase

The preparation phase builds endurance and technique. The swimmer begins to get a feel for the water. Ideally, this phase should be as short as possible because the swimmers already should be at that level coming into the season. The teams swim basic aerobic sets, mixes in different strokes, and emphasizes technique. On land, the swimmers mix in some running and general strength training: push ups, dips, pull ups, jumps, etc. Another component emphasized is core body strength. The first few weeks are spent teaching the teams all of the core exercises that are built on the rest of the year.

Aerobic Phase

The purpose of the aerobic phase is to build an aerobic base. The sprinters' training differs from distance swimmers in this case. An aerobic foundation aids in recovery time following race pace, enhances ability to maintain speed through efficiency and aids in reinforcing proper technique and body position. The latter half of September and the majority of October focus on building aerobic capacity.

Race Pace Fall Phase

Gradually, the team builds in more race specific training for each group. ATP (short sprints), lactate adaptation, lactate tolerance and broken swims are techniques used to get individuals used to swimming in racing conditions. Since the team is competing nearly every weekend through this phase, training is set up for recovery just prior to most meets.

Fall Taper

Much of the team tapers for a large meet in December. Thanksgiving break provides a time for real recovery and light, loosen-up swimming. The week prior to the December meet, intensity will be reduced, but the training time will remain constant. Following an early December rest, training is switched to an aerobic base regimen, which continues until finals end and the team breaks for the Christmas holidays.

Winter Break and Florida Trip

Training at home over the break is highly recommended. The Florida trip is the biggest team-building opportunity of the season. Team cohesion and leadership, in order to achieve success, are worked on in Florida. Training emphasizes a mix of basic aerobic swimming, VO2 max training and a little lactate production. It includes both long course and short course, as well as daily dry land workouts. The Florida trip is a challenging week.

Race Pace Spring Phase

In January, sprint training, lactate tolerance and broken swims resume. Each swimmer learns their stroke rate (tempo) for each race. Swimmers concentrate on strategy and on how to mentally prepare for their races.

Final Taper

This is the final sharpening and tuning stage. Time to rest and recover the body is allowed, while at the same time, the team sharpens tempo and pacing skills. Ideally, taper is three weeks or less, and many times, distance swimmers and some of the middle distance women will rest one week or less.

Mental Training

The team spends time on positive thinking. A positive team attitude and atmosphere facilitates positive habits and life skills. Respect and support of teammates is encouraged. Short term and long term goals are set. Visualizing positive outcomes in training, daily life and competitions is practiced.

Dryland Training

Early in the season, building muscular endurance is emphasized, laying the foundation to a strong, flexible, fit body for the year. As the season progresses, the team builds in more power oriented exercises. By the peak performance zones (December, February-March) as much specific muscular power and endurance as possible is created in order to help the mind and body push through all-out maximal racing efforts again and again. Muscular and joint flexibility, shoulder strength, core body strength and dynamic movements are concentrated on throughout the season.

Weight Training

Weight training is primarily used to build general muscle strength, endurance and power. Workouts are centered around several primary exercises, the squat, dead lift, hang clean and bench press. Initially, strength building is emphasized, and the last phase incorporates power building. Significant strength gains are made by the team through the season.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Truman swimmers excel in and out of the water. Last year, the teams were recognized for their outstanding academic abilities by the College Swimming Coaches Association of America, by the Verizon Academic all-American Program and by the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association conference.

Christine Gould was named an MIAA presidential scholar for the fourth straight year, while Sarah Dance, Diana Betsworth and Gina Fettig earned the award for the first time. Members of the team must have a cumulative grade point average of 4.0.

Betsworth, Christina Blose, Alison Blyth, Dance, Kelli Dudley, Gina Fettig, Ellen Frick, Liz Hug, Michaela Osborn, Bridget Riley, Sue Ellen Thoma, Sarah Wells, Robby Cooper, Andy Harken, Matt Pray, and Kyle Sterup were named CSCAA academic all-Americans.

In addition, Riley was named to the Verizon Academic All-America At-Large First-Team while Liz Hug was named to the third team. Riley, Dudley, Hug and Sterup were all named to the Verizon Academic All-District VII At-Large First-Team. Members are nominated and voted on after meeting minimum requirements of having sophomore status and a cumulative grade point average of 3.2.

Betsworth, Blose, Blyth, Dance, Dudley, Fettig, Frick, Hug, Osborn, Riley, Thoma, Wells and Sterup were also named academic all-MIAA. Members of the academic all-MIAA team must have won all-America honors and maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5.

Several Truman swimmers were also named to the at-large MIAA commissioner's academic honor roll. To be a member, individuals must have a cumulative GPA of at 3.0, have completed at least two terms at the nominating institution and have sophomore athletic eligibility.

The following swimmers were named to the honor roll: Alison Blyth, Dudley, Lindsey Ehret, Frick, Calie Fulmer, Gould, Sara Hatcher, Hug, Beth Joslin, Katie May, Meghan Osborn, Megan Pittman, Kacie Rice, Riley, Michelle Seck, Diana Young, Cooper, Harken, Caleb Hopkins, Ryan Jacobi, Andy Ladrow, Bryan Meyer, Pray, Sterup and Brian Teson.

WOMEN WIN BACK-TO-BACK

The Truman women's swimming team followed up its first national title with a repeat performance, only on a much grander scale in 2002.

The 18-member national championship team, which is the largest allowed by the NCAA, became the powerhouse early in the meet, leading runner-up Drury by 37 points after day one. The Truman women extended their lead to 61 points after day two and 119 points after day three.

When the fourth and final day of competition finally ended, the women had totaled 733 points, demolishing their closest opponent by 185 points, the second-largest margin of victory at a DII women's meet. Drury finished second (548 points) and West Chester came in third (434).

Following the meet, head coach Seth Huston was named NCAA Division II Women's Swimming Coach of the Year for the fourth consecutive season.

Truman also boasted another repeat honor, the NCAA Division II Women's Swimmer of the Meet. Newcomer Diana Betsworth earned the status after winning titles in the 200, 1,000 and 1,650 freestyles and as a member of the national champion 400 and 800 freestyle relay teams. Betsworth also earned second-place in the 100 freestyle and was a member of the second-place 200 freestyle relay team. In 2001, the award was given to former team member and assistant coach Jess Martin.

Liz Hug also became a national champion in two races, winning both the 200 individual medley and the 500 freestyle.

In relays, the women championed the 800 freestyle for the third consecutive year. Relay members included Hug, Bridget Riley, Sarah Dance and Betsworth. The 400 freestyle relay team of Hug, Sara Hatcher, Dance and Betsworth broke a three-year streak of finishing second, winning the title for the first time ever. The 200 freestyle relay contingent of Betsworth, May, Dance and Hatcher placed second.

The 200 medley relay of Christina Blose, Hatcher, Michaela Osborn and Krista Pray and the 400 medley relay of Kelli Dudley, Michaela Osborn, Hug and Hatcher also placed first.

The Bulldogs did some damage to the NCAA record book as well. Betsworth broke the 1991 Division II standard in the 200 freestyle, as well as the record in the 1,000 freestyle set in '01 by Martin. Hug also broke an individual record in the 200 IM that was set in 1993.

was seventh and Wells was ninth.

To sum up, the women broke seven NCAA Division II national records, 16 school records and claimed nine national championships to finish.

IN 2002, THE MEN'S TEAM achieved a ninth-place finish at the NCAA Division II national championships, taking nine swimmers to the national meet, the largest contingent in school history. The men came close to their best finish at nationals placing tied for ninth, just missing their best finish ever at eighth in 1996.

After the first day of competition, the men had a strong showing and were in seventh. The 200 medley relay team of Brian Teson, Andy Harken, Matt Pray and Drew Yemm came in seventh with a school record time of 1:32.76. That same day, Yemm placed 11th in the 50 free (21.14), Harken was 15th in the 200 IM (1:55.99) and Kyle Sterup swam a school record time of 9:32.32 in the 1,000 free to place 12th.

On the second day, three school records fell, but the men slipped to eighth. Pray was the first to compete, placing third in the 100 butterfly, beating his own school record with a 48.96. Robby Cooper was next to break a record, swimming a 1:41.67 in the 200 freestyle to place 14th. At the end of the day, the 400 medley relay squad of Teson, Harken, Pray and Cooper broke another school record with a time of 3:25.48, placing seventh.

Cooper had his best individual finish of the meet on the third day. He started things off for the men with a time of 4:34.91 in the 500 freestyle, good enough for a 12th-place finish and a new school record. Harken was the next Bulldog to place, scoring ninth in the 100 breaststroke (57.43), also a new school record. Pray then placed fourth in the 200 butterfly, beating his own school record with a time of 1:49.78. The 800 free relay group of Sterup, Andy Ladrow, Phil Brown and Cooper were 10th (6:54.69).

The fourth and final day of competition at nationals saw more impressive swims from the Bulldog men. Sterup started it off with a 15th-place finish in the 1,650 freestyle with a school-record time of 16:05.41. Harken was the next to score with a 16th-place finish in the 200 breaststroke (2:06.74). Finishing off the meet was the 400 free relay team of Pray, Cooper, Struble and Yemm. They placed eighth, setting a school record in prelims with a time of 3:06.51.

Overall, the men had an outstanding season, breaking 11 school records. Even the swimmers who didn't make it to nationals saw achievement, making significant time improvements at the UNO Invitational and Central States Championships.

WOMEN'S SEASON PREVIEW

The 2002-03 women's swimming team, after successfully defending its national title last year, looks to be even stronger this season. This year's team returns nine national champions, eight of that hold NCAA Division II national records.

Sophomore Diana Betsworth holds four national records, as does senior Liz Hug. Other returning national champions include seniors Kelli Dudley and Sara Hatcher, juniors Katie May and Krista Pray, and sophomores Christina Blose, Sarah Dance, and Michaela Osborn.

Other returning all-Americans include seniors Ellen Frick and Amanda Shearer, junior Alison Blyth and sophomores Gina Fettig and Sarah Wells.

The team also boasts a large freshmen class. A few individuals to watch out for are Meredith Rocha, who has already been impressive in the butterfly, and Aimee Gre- gor in the freestyle and IM events. Katie Funk, Kristin Halet and Whitney Jensen should prove to be strong contenders in the freestyle events as well.

Hug and Hatcher will take over as captains of the women's team.

FREESTYLE

Hatcher returns as the top sprint freestyler after placing second in the 50 free and fifth in the 100 free at nationals. She was also a crucial member of the winning 200 medley, 400 medley and 400 freestyle relays, as well as the second-place 200 freestyle relay. Hatcher is joined by Blose, sophomore Sue Ellen Thoma, junior Calie Fulmer and Jensen in the sprint freestyle events.

An onslaught of swimmers comprise the middle-distance freestylers. Betsworth is back as the national record-holder in the 200 freestyle. Other strong returners in the middle-distance events are Hug, who won the 500 at nationals, and Dance, who was a member of the national record-setting 400 and 800 freestyle relays with Betsworth and Hug. Thoma should be a strong contributor again this year, as well as junior Lindsey Ehret. Funk, Gregor, Halet, freshman Kelli Criswell and sophomore Cassie Roudebush should also see time in the middle-distance events.

In the distance freestyle events, Betsworth returns as the top contender having set the national record in the 1,000 freestyle last season. She is backed up by Hug, May, Wells, Shearer, Frick, Funk, sophomore Meghan Vaughan and freshman Jackie Lopez for a strong distance squad.

BUTTERFLY

The butterfly events are led by Dance, who placed fifth in the 100 at nationals, and Blyth, who placed sixth in the 200. More strong flyers include Hug and Blose who were the fly legs on the national record-setting 400 and 200 medley relays, respectively.

Rocha, Fettig, Pray, Shearer, Criswell, and sophomore Megan Losee should also be powerful competitors in the butterfly.

BACKSTROKE

Three national scorers return in the backstroke races. Dudley won the 200 backstroke and placed second in the 100 back. May and Pray, significant scorers in those events at nationals, along with Dance, make up a strong contingent.

Lopez, Fulmer and freshman Kate Kresl help add depth to the backstroke squad.

BREASTSTROKE

Osborn leads the way in the breaststroke, having broken the 100 and 200 breaststroke school records last season. She was also the breaststroke leg on the national record-setting 200 and 400 medley relays. Osborn is backed up by Dudley, Hug, Losee, Shearer, Kresl and senior Diana Young, who should all see time in the breaststroke races.

INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY

The individual medley races will see many fast returners. Leading the way will be Hug, Dudley, Dance and Wells. Hug set the national record in the 200 IM and Dudley placed second. Dance and Wells were also in the top eight at nationals last year.

More capable returners include Fettig, Shearer, Blyth and Losee. Gregor and Kresl will also see time in the individual medley races.

MEN'S SEASON PREVIEW

Last year, the men's team took nine swimmers to nationals, a number which they hope to improve on this year.

At the head of the pack will be senior Matt Pray. He placed third in the 100 butterfly and fourth in the 200 butterfly at nationals last year. His second-place finish in 2001 marked the highest national finish ever for a Truman men's swimmer. Other top returners are juniors Andy Harken and Robby Cooper. Both swimmers placed in the top 16 in several events at nationals last year.

Other returning all-Americans include juniors Brian Teson and Vince Struble, and sophomore Phil Brown. They were all crucial legs on the relays that placed in the top eight at nationals last year.

The freshman class brings six new swimmers to the team who look to step up and contribute. Watch for Josh Otis, Derek Duffy and Chris Brammer to put in some fast times this season.

This year's men's team captains are Pray and senior Jay Westensee.

FREESTYLE

Struble and sophomore Ashtyn Beek look to be the main sprint freestylers this season, with Pray, Harken and Otis filling in where needed. Adding depth to the sprint squad is sophomore Nick Joslin.

Cooper, Brown, sophomore Kyle Ediger

and Westensee will likely be some of the top performers in the middle distance events. Cooper, Brown and Ediger were all under the B-cut last season in the 200.

Cooper should be the strongest contender in the distance freestyle events after finishing 12th in the 500 and 16th in the 1,000 freestyles at nationals last year.

Look for Brown to fill in where needed, and freshmen Mike Wasikowski should see time in the distance events as well.

BUTTERFLY

Pray should continue to dominate the butterfly events this season, having broken both the 100 and 200 butterfly school records last year. He is joined by Harken and Teson who both competed in the 100 butterfly at nationals a year ago.

Also look for Brammer to bolster the attack, and Otis might see time in the butterfly events as well.

Sophomore Ben Buras and junior Caleb Hopkins will provide depth to the 100 butterfly, while Brown, Paden and sophomore Dustin Engels will be strong contenders in the 200 event.

BACKSTROKE

Teson, Pray and junior Bryan Meyer will be the top returners in the backstroke events. Teson and Pray both swam the 100 backstroke at nationals last year while Meyer was very close to achieving a B-cut in the 200. Also look for Duffy to step up and make some contributions in the backstroke events.

BREASTSTROKE

Harken will be the premier breaststroker this season after placing ninth in the 100 and 16th in the 200 at nationals in 2002. However, don't count out Struble and sophomore Justin Brosseau to provide some impressive times this season.

Adding depth to the breaststroke races will be sophomores Matt Peebles and Ryan Blase. Otis and freshmen Andrew Wright and Luke Gleaves could prove to be assets in the breaststroke as well.

INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY

Harken, Teson and Brown look to be some of the top returners in the individual medley this year. Harken placed in the 200 at nationals last year while Teson got experience swimming the 200 and Brown the 400 at the national meet. Also look for Brosseau to post some of the top times in the individual medley events.

The freshmen should have a chance to make big contributions in the IM events. Look for Otis and Duffy to step up and be top performers.

Buras should add depth to the 200 IM while Paden and Jacobi could be strong contenders in the 400 individual medley.

HEAD COACH COLLEEN MURPHY

Colleen Murphy, a native of Grand Blanc, Mich., begins her first season as head swimming coach at Truman State University in 2002-03. She served as an assistant to former head coach Seth Huston for two years, and helped guide the women's team to the school's first ever national team title in 2001, and a runner-up finish in 2000. The men's squad placed 16th at the national meet in 2001 and had its second-best finish ever of ninth in 2000.

During Murphy's tenure as assistant coach at Truman, the Bulldog swimmers won six individual NCAA titles and four relay national championships. In just two years, the Bulldog swimmers produced 22 all-Americans.

In 2001, senior Jess Martin was named the NCAA Division II swimmer of the year by the National Swimming Coaches Association, and went on to win the Honda NCAA Division II Woman of the Year award as well. In all, the Bulldog women broke 17 of 19 school records and the men set 10 school standards while Murphy was assistant coach.

In September of 2001, Murphy took the position of assistant coach for the University of Iowa women's swimming team, and most recently served a brief stint as an assistant at Penn State University for the men's and women's swimming teams.

While at Iowa, the women's swimming team improved to seventh in the Big 10 Conference and qualified two women automatically and three women provisionally for the NCAA Division I swimming championships. In addition, Murphy coached a swimmer to a ninth-place finish and honorable mention all-America status in the 200 breaststroke at the D-I championships. The Hawkeye women broke 10 school records during Murphy's year at Iowa, where she was in charge of the sprint and breaststroke training groups.

In the summer of 2001, Murphy served as the head counselor for the Longhorn Swim Camp at the University of Texas at Austin. Murphy directed a staff of 12 counselors and assisted the Texas coaching staff in running workouts, stroke technique and dry-land training for a camp of 150 swimmers each week.

Prior to coming to Truman, she served as the head age group coach at Wildcat Aquatics in Lexington, while completing her master's degree in history at the University of Kentucky. Her duties included planning and instituting practices for various age groups, focusing on fundamentals, technique and endurance. Murphy also maintained team records, handled meet entries and was in charge of team communications. Wildcat Aquatics is a top-ranked USS swim club in the state of Kentucky. Murphy also served as

ABOUT TRUMAN

Truman State University is Missouri's only state-wide public liberal arts and sciences university and the only public university designated highly selective by the Missouri Coordinating Board for Higher Education.

Founded in 1867 as a normal school, Truman State University became the official name of Missouri's liberal arts and sciences university on July 1, 1996. Formerly known as Northeast Missouri State University, the change in name coincided with the 10th anniversary of the Missouri Legislature's action which changed the University's mission from that of a regional comprehensive university to the statewide liberal arts and sciences university. The new name complements the mission and honors the only Missourian to serve as president of the United States.

Now a nationally recognized university, Truman is a leader in its undaunting commitment to assessment and accountability. Truman's program of assessment allows the University to measure the results of the teaching-learning process and gather critical information on student growth and development to ensure that graduates are prepared for future success.

Truman is consistently recognized nationally for the high quality education it provides. For the past six years, Truman has been recognized by U.S. News and World Report as the number one public university in the midwest region. You can also read about Truman in numerous other publications such as Fiske Guide to Colleges, The Princeton Review and Kaplan

Newsweek College Guide.

Truman's curriculum provides each student, regardless of intended specialization, with a foundation of knowledge appropriate to a traditional liberal arts and sciences education. It also requires major field specialization, providing each student with in-depth knowledge and mastery of a discipline. This exemplary undergraduate education provides graduates with the knowledge and skills necessary to be successful upon graduation. Approximately 40 percent of Truman's graduates enter graduate programs and professional schools in the two years following their graduation.

Truman's 6,000 students pursue degrees in 42 undergraduate and nine graduate areas of study in eight academic divisions.

Truman's students consistently rank among the highest in their high school graduating class. For example, the fall 2001 class has an average ACT score of 27, the 91st percentile nationally, while the high school grade-point was a 3.72 on a 4.00 scale. In addition to their academic ability, more than 99 percent had leadership roles in high school.

Truman State University is committed to the advancement of knowledge, to freedom of thought and inquiry, and to the personal, social and intellectual growth of each of its students. The University strives to maintain a recognized standard of excellence in all of its educational endeavors and a responsible stewardship of the resources provided by the people of Missouri.

Truman is headed by a Board of Governors appointed by the Governor of Missouri. Seven are voting members from throughout the state. In addition, there are two out-of-state members and a student representative who do not vote.

Current members include Matthew C. Barnes; John W. Briscoe; Sarah B. Burkemper; Peter T. Ewell, Ph.D.; Thomas R. Jayne; Ruth Mach, Ed.D.; Micah McKay, student representative; Michael Schwend; Wilma Maddox; and Randa Rawlins.

PRESIDENT JACK MAGRUDER

Jack Magruder became the 13th president of Truman State University on July 1, 1994. Magruder began his career at Truman in 1964 as an assistant professor of chemistry. During his 22 years on the faculty, he achieved the rank of full professor before serving as head of the Division of Science from 1986-89. In 1989, Magruder became dean of instruction and was later appointed vice president for academic affairs, the position he held when he was named president.

Magruder is a member of a number of professional organizations, including the American Chemical Society, Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society, Sigma Beta Delta Honor Society, National Association for Research in Science Teaching, National Science Teachers and the Science Teachers of Missouri. He is past-president of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges and the Council on Public Higher Education.

Magruder is a 1957 graduate of Truman State University and is married to Sue Brimer Magruder, a 1955 and 1977 graduate of Truman. Their children, Julie Magruder Lochbaum, Kerry Magruder and Laura Magruder Mann are also graduates of Truman.

After nearly 40 years of service to the University, Magruder has announced that he will retire in June of 2003.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS JERRY WOLLMERING

Jerry W. Wollmering began as Director of Athletics at Truman in September of 1999. Wollmering had served as associate athletics director of finance and administration at Bowling Green State University in Ohio since January of 1998. He was also the assistant athletics director for financial affairs for two years, prior to his becoming an associate AD.

Wollmering earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with a major in accounting from Drake University in 1987, and a master's degree in physical education with a major in athletic administration from Kent State University in 1993. He is also a certified public accountant with experience as an auditor.

Before arriving at Bowling Green, he was an assistant athletic director at Southeast Missouri State University, a Division I program, for approximately 18 months. While working on his master's degree, Wollmering was a graduate assistant to the athletic director at Kent.

A native of Ft. Madison, Iowa, he was a varsity letterman in cross country and track at Drake. Wollmering served on the NCAA Division I athletics certification self study subcommittees for fiscal integrity and commitment to equity, and was a member of the NCAA peer review team.

Wollmering and his wife, Alicia, have two daughters, Leah who is 5-years-old and, Erica who is 3-years-old. They are expecting their third child in February of 2002.

WHAT'S IN A NICKNAME?

Why was the nickname, Bulldogs, selected for Truman State University? O.C. Bell in 1908 referred to his performers as Bulldogs, but it wasn't an official designation. So far as is known, this term wasn't used again until the spring of 1915.

At the time, a committee of students, including the late President Emeritus Walter H. Ryle, recommended the adoption of the "Bulldog" as the official emblem because of the beast's tenacity and ability to fight desperately to the end.

The spirit of the Bulldog has been evident since the name was selected 87 years ago. It's not unique though, as at least 16 NCAA schools have adopted the "Bulldog".

TRUMAN AREAS OF STUDY

PERSHING BUILDING

Named in honor of General John J. Pershing, the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces to France during World War I and one of Truman's most distinguished alumni, Pershing Building is a two-story red brick and stone structure located on the south end of campus. In 1967, a north wing was added to the building. The addition featured another gymnasium, a dance studio, classrooms and offices. Also included in the south wing are indoor racquetball courts and offices.

Pershing features a variety of athletics equipment, including a newly remodeled weight room, an indoor rubber track and complete athletics training facilities.

In 1976, the south wing was added, which houses the Natatorium, with a six-lane, 40-yard swimming pool. The pool is equipped with a movable bulkhead and electronic timing devices. The stands above the north side of the pool provide room for up to 500 fans.

WEIGHT ROOMS

Truman has three weight rooms that are at the disposal of student-athletes. The largest is the free weights room which is located on the west side of the Pershing Arena on the third floor. This room was renovated during the summer of 2000. Renovations included new ventilation and equipment, and general refurbishment of the interior. Approximately 2,600 square feet, it accommodates 40-45 athletes at a time with eight separate power stations complete with platforms and bumper plates for a wide variety of strength training and rehabilitation. The Nautilus room is located on the east side of the arena near the ramp that leads to the natatorium. The third weight room is the aquatic weight room and is located at the bottom of the ramp on the east side.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The training room is home base for the sports medicine program at Truman State University. The purpose of the program is to work toward the prevention of athletic injuries, care for those injuries that do happen and work for complete recovery through rehabilitation so that the student-athlete can return to competition as safely and quickly as possible. The program operates under the direct supervision of four full-time experienced trainers and two physicians. If an athlete should be injured while participating in an intercollegiate sport, they will be evaluated by a highly competent training staff member and treated as needed or referred to necessary medical personnel.

The main training room is on the lower level of Pershing Building just off the northeast corner of Pershing Arena. Both the head athletics trainer's and assistant athletics trainer's offices are located in this area. The student trainers assigned to each sport also use this as their main area of contact.

A secondary training room in the football kennels, located south of Pershing Building, is mainly used during fall and spring practices because of its proximity to the football practice field and outdoor track.
